JAZZ @ THE MARKET OFFERS COOL BREAK TO MARKET ACTION

Vail Jazz Foundation presents Laura Newman Trio on Sunday, July 20 at Noon

Vail, CO July 18, 2008 – The ever popular Jazz @ the Market series returns to the Vail Farmers’ Market this Sunday, featuring the Laura Newman Trio. Known for top notch musicianship, this jazz trio offers an extensive repertoire of original jazz compositions, classic hits, standards, R&B, acid jazz, funk and pop tunes.

The Mile High Chapter Choir was established in Denver in 1993, as an organization committed to ministering sacred music to reach the hearts of people everywhere. The gospel singers hail from 12 Denver area churches, and they perform in both religious and secular settings throughout the region. The Choir works in association with the Gospel Music Workshop of America (GMWA), which was established over 40 years ago to nurture gospel vocalists and instrumentalists in the United States and beyond. The GMWA hosts an annual conference for 30,000 vocalists and musicians from all over the United States, and the UK, Italy, Japan, Canada and Germany.

The group has played the market in past and enjoys the outdoor venue and Vail Farmers’ Market audience.

“Everyone seems to dig our music style”, said lead Laura Newman. “We take pride in making a real connection; we use upbeat tunes and realize we are entertainers as well as musicians – our playing style keeps them coming back for more.”, said Newman, who is joined by Vlad Girshevich and Matt Amundson. With Newman on saxophone, Girshevich on keyboard and Amundson on drums, expect to swing to the beat with the Laura Newman trio.

The Vail Jazz Foundation presents Blues, Standards, vocals and straight ahead jazz to the Vail Farmers’ Market from 12:00 to 3:30pm through August 24. Don’t miss this unique opportunity to catch some of the region’s hottest jazz talent in ‘plein air’ on the plaza between Sunland Silver and Annie’s.
